

Health and Safety

When you see a person in a Chris Bartholomew jacket on one of your sites, you can be sure that our induction process has made them fully aware of all the Health & Safety issues they'll confront, they'll have the right tools for the job and a full understanding of what they have to do – and the best way to do it. Our staff are highly skilled, experienced and have a "can do" attitude that makes them a pleasure to work with. We understand how important Health and safety is and are accredited under the Contractors Health and Safety Assessment Scheme (CHAS).

If you would like to see a copy of our current Health and Safety Policy or see examples of Risk and Method Statements please get in touch.
