

Overview

Chris Bartholomew Electrical Contractors is a medium sized electrical contractor based South of Uckfield. We currently have a turnover of between 1.5 &ndash; 2 Million per annum. Chris Bartholomew has been an electrician since 1972 and formed the company in its present form in 1994.

Working within the commercial, industrial and domestic industries, our service and experience over the last ten years has resulted in us working on some major development projects. Chris Bartholomew Electrical Contractors Ltd is dedicated to providing our clients with professional expertise over a wide range of installation requirements from design level through to completion.

With competitive rates, reliable service and excellent quality of work, Chris Bartholomew Electrical Contractors is leading the way as one of the South Coast's leading electrical contractors.